START WORK ON LINDO LAKE PARK IMPROVEMENTS

POST OFFICE EARNINGS IN 1939 LARGER

Lakeside Post Office business did more than hold its own in 1939, it showed a nice little increase according to figures furnished The Farmer by Postmaster Thomas F. Helm.

The total business in 1939 was $4765.80 as compared with $4258.72 in 1938, an increase of more than $500. This may be taken as a satisfactory indication that Lakeside did not stand still during the troubled year just closed; also it is a promise of better days in 1940.

Postmaster Helm's figures in detail are as follows: Sale of stamps, cards and envelopes $4340.93 in 1939 as compared with $3822.06 in 1938. Second class $5.88 as against $6.44; permit matter 3rd class $143.63 compared with $148.76; excess on stamped envelopes $10.02 last year $9.80 the previous year; box rents $265.34 as compared with $271.66.

Number of money orders and value were as follows:

In 1939, domestic issued 3790 value $27,625.38: foreign 10, value $71.61; domestic paid 1110, value $12,799.47; foreign 7 value $116.03.

In 1938: domestic issued 3836 value $30,103.96; foreign 4, value $41.92; domestic paid 1195, value $12,577.53; foreign 9, value $63.76.

Farm Bureau Plans Supper and Cards

Varied and interesting is the program arranged for the Farm Bureau pot luck supper to be held Thusday, Jan 11 at Lakeside Womans Clubhouse. There will be a talk on Permanent Pasture illustrated by a picture entitled "Sod." This feature will be of special interest to cattlemen and stockraisers for it tells about what kind of grass to grow for continual feed.

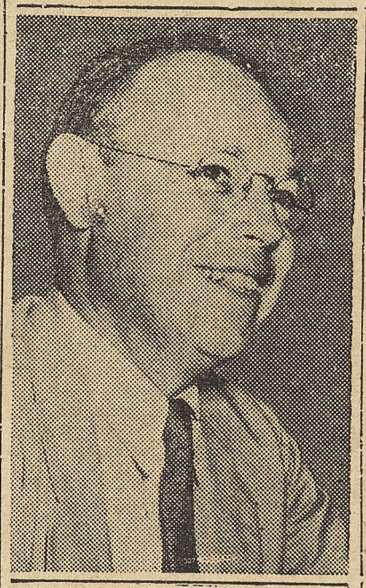

Cards will be played later in the evening for 10c a corner, the proceeds to be used to help pay the hall rent.

Local Men Invited To Jackson Dinner

Local Democrats are being urged by the Democratic County Central Committee to attend a Jackson Day dinner at the Plata Real, U. S. Grant Hotel, San Diego, Jan. 8 at 6:30. Chairman Fry says the cost will be $1 per plate and reservations may be made by calling Room Service of the hotel.

Cheerful people refresh others; never allow yourself to say anything gloomy.—L. M. Child.

TAFT WILL ANSWER BUDGET CHALLENGE

SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 1:—Senator Robert A. Taft will answer the President's budget challenge with a plan to stop Federal deficits, it is announced here.

Under the title "Mr. President, Here's How to Balance the Budget," the Ohio Senator will speak before the Chicago Bar Association in Chicago Friday, January 5. His speech will be heard over the Blue Network of the National Broad casting Company, 6:30 Pacific Standard Time.

Army Enlistments Set All Time High

Ninth Corps Area, stands in third place for enlistments accomplished under the President's expansion program, according to a War Department announcement received at the Los Angeles Army Recruiting Office.

Enlistments for the Los Angeles Recruiting District, covering Southern California, set an all time high according to Colonel Aubery Lippincott, Army Recruiting Officer.

A bulletin from the War Department gives a total of 3,827 enlistments in the Ninth Corps Area since the Regular Army Reserve was created July 1st, 1938.

TWO LAKESIDE MEN WIN CENSUS JOBS

John C. Seehaas and Robert E. Stein of Lakeside have been appointed to positions as enumerators in the federal business census which started Tuesday, reports Forrest L. Hieatt, district supervisor.

THE TREE LOVES US

Says Mayor Marc Vertin, Los Gatos, defying state highway officials to remove old landmark tree—"They can't do that to Los Gatos! The tree loves us We love the tree. We won't defy the Supreme Court—but until it speaks, our cops'll protect that tree!"

ALPINE WOMAN HEARS FROM WAR AREA

How life in England goes on under war conditions is told in a letter which Mrs. R. E. Burns of Alpine received from her friend, Mrs. Minnie Cottam of 4 Marlboro Grove, Kirkly Road, Ripon. After extending best wishes for the New Year Mrs. Cottam says:

"How I wish I were with you to enjoy life in your mountains. Well, what do you think about the war? Isn't it too bad to have to go through it again. Rationing for food has begun here. We commenced with butter on Dec. 6 and now it is bacon and sugar. I think we have plenty of food stored in the country but it is only fair that we should share and share alike.

We have got a camp here with 2,000 soldiers. It is up the road just past the cemetery. It is one of the most uptodate camps in this part of the country. It has a large cinema and dance hall, football fields, tennis courts, etc. It is self-contained and is really wonderful.

"We have about 3000 evacuees here; nearly all from Leeds (a great industrial city.) I have two girls billeted on me from the Lawnswood High School... That means work and worry and no privacy. Some have had soldiers billeted on them and every available place and all cafes have been taken over by the government, so I might have been worse off.

"Willie and I still play golf. We were at a golf dance the other night and had a great time. We still have the car, but don't use it as we are only allowed six gallons of petrol a month so it is not worth running. Besides we haven't time and the tax is to go up five pounds—$20—in the New Year

"I wish I could pop in on you and have a look at your lovely garden, also to have a cup of tea and talk about old times. Wouldn't that be nice!

As a P. S. Mrs. Cottam tells about the complete blackout. "It is so terribly dark at night we dare not go out" she says.

Middle Class Group Starts Radio Talks

Sponored by the Middle Class League of America James Hervey Johnson, national vice president of the group, will give an address over radio station KGB of San Diego at 4:45 p. m. Sunday Jan. 7. The league's object is "restoration of the Americanism of our forefathers."

Kiddies Have the Gold Fever, Too

ALHAMBRA MINE, Kelsey, Calif.—Young Ronnie and Jimmy, sons of Alhambra mine superintendent Ray Henricksen, do a bit of prospecting in the dumps of the Alhambra mine, where recently was discovered a new million dollar gold ore vein.

Challenge Lakeside Recreation Leaders To Form Basketball Team, Enter Tourney

(Contributed)

What is the most popular game in the United Staes? Some say fooball, others insist that it is baseball. According to Spaldings Official Guide the combination of both football and baseball plus ten million would equal basketball.

Basketball is a fairly new game. In 1891 James Naismith, a Y. M. C. A. director in Spring field, Mass. invented an indoor routine for his football team. He used peach baskets and a volley ball. Today we have the most popular game in the United States developed from this routine.

Basketball is a fast game requiring coordination and team work; it is a nice game to watch.

The Lakeside Recreation leaders have received some challenges from nearby cities to produce a team and enter a tournament. With this aim in view the gym at the grammar school will be open every Monday night from 7 to 9 for the purpose of producing such a team. Some games will be scheduled and announcements of the dates will be posted later.

Don't forget to come to the social party held at the old Grammar School on Friday nights. Everything is free.

Collector Mails Income Tax Blanks

The melancholy days are here the saddest of the year, when you must fill out forms for Uncle Sam or else you'll take it on the lam.

U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue Nat Rogan reports that income tax blanks were mailed to taxpayers Wednesday. If you don't get yours, or if you didn't file a return last year, you may get blanks by calling at his office on the 11th floor of the New Federal Building, Los Angeles. As that is rather a long way off for Lakesiders it is presumed there is an office in San Diego where the blanks may be obtained.

In a statement to the newspapers Collecor Rogan points out that a return must be filed by every single person if his net income for 1939 was $1,000 or over or his gross income was $5,000 or over; and by a married couple if their combined net income for 1939 was $2,500 or over, or their combined gross income was $5,000 or over.

Collector Rogan urges taxpayers to file early. All returns not filed by March 15 will be subject to heavy penalties.

Talk On Nutrition At P. T.-A. Meeting

Lakeside P.-T. A. will hold its next business meeting Tuesday, Jan. 9 at the schoolhouse at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Smith of Grossmont will talk on Nutrition. Fifth grade mothers will be hostesses. Let's have a crowd out this time, says Mrs. Dorothy Morton, publicity chairman.

Church Gives Thanks Sends Good Wishes

Lakeside Community Church, through Pastor Thomas I. Nalbach, wishes the people to know that it appreciates the fine response toward its Christmas program and activities. All connected with the church wish the residents A Happy New Year.

Mrs. Winnett Dies On New Year's Day

New Year's day brought sorrow to one Lakeside home. On Jan. 1 Mrs. Mary A. Winnett, wife of Walter J. Winnett of Riverview Farms, passed away. She leaves her husband and eight children to mourn her loss.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at Erickson Anderson mortuary in La Mesa with the Rev. Thomas I. Nalbach, pastor of the Lakeside Community Church, officiating.

Mrs. Winnett was the mother of Pearl Swearengin, Bertha, Joslin, Mirth, Kiehl, Arthur, Edith and Lewis Winnett.

FORTY YOUTHS EMPLOYED ON PROJECT

UNDER DIRECTION OF S. D. COUNTY PROPERTY DEPT.

Work is to be started next week on improvements at Lindo Lake Park, under direction of the County Property Department of which Harry Waugh is the head and R. Parks is county foreman. The National Youth Administration is furnishing the labor and about forty boys will be employed on the project.

Ralph N. Klous, NYA manager for San Diego and Orange counties, announces that in addition to the Lakeside park project the NYA will assist the reconstruction of the county library at El Cajon and improvements of Eucalyptus park in La Mesa.

RUSTIC FOOTBRIDGE TO BE CONSTRUCTED

The work to be done at Lindo Lake Park includes construction of a rustic footbridge over the lake to replace the present dilapidated bridge and rebuilding of the boathouse, according to Herbert Bullock, supervisor of the new projects. Two rest room buildings of adobe will be built, one on the north side and the other on the south. For the convenience of campers and picknickers who wish to prepare their own meals cast iron stoves will be installed, three on the present picnic grounds, one on the south side and another on the north side.

At times when the boys are not working on the buildings they will be under direction of Wesley Beadle, who will have them weeding and cleaning up.

As co-sponsor of the NYA projects, the county has allocated $2260 to El Cajon and $2160 to the Lakeside projects. Federal funds amount to $5145 for El Cajon and $4620 for Lakeside.

NYA PROJECTS VARIED

These projects, Klous says, are a part of the NYA works project program—a division separate from the student aid in high schools and colleges. There are 33 such projects in San Diego and Orange counties employing 950 needy youths between 18 and 25.

"In connection with the training aspect of NYA," Klous said, "youths are encouraged to take courses related to their work in vocational schools, evening classes or part time programs in high schools and colleges."

WORST FIRE SEASON

Worst forest fire season in 15 years is the way officials of Cleveland and other forest areas speak of the past few months. In California 7980 fires occurred; total area burned over was 643,200 acres.

Lindo Lake, El Monte Oaks and Two Dams to be Visited by Museum Party

Lindo Lake, El Monte Oaks and El Capitan Dam will be visited Jan. 20 in an all-day excursion from San Diego that is being arranged by the Natural History Museum, Balboa Park.

Frank F. Gander of the museum staff will conduct a walk around Lindo Lake. The announcement says:

Special parlor car stages will start at 9:30 from the Broadway entrance of the U.S. Grant hotel and will drive, via scenic Mission gorge where a stop will be made to inspect the old Mission dam constructed by the padres, to El Capitan dam, thus providing opportunity to view the oldest and newest water-impounding structures in San Diego county. A city engineer will explain to the group the features of El Capitan dam and reservoir. The stages will then return to El Monte Oaks, where lunch, which must be carried, will be eaten. In the afternoon, the party will stop at Lindo Lake.

Business Men Call for Volunteers To Fight Political Interference

This town has been invited by the American Taxpayers and Business Mens Organization of San Diego to send a delegation to a dinner-meeting at the San Diego hotel Monday night at 6:30. Representatives from every community in the county are expected says President Ira Conner of Solano Beach. George Sawday is second vice president.

Conner has issued a call "for volunteers to fight exorbitant taxes, political interference with business and political chiselers." Treasurer E. O. Busenburg says:

"We plan a systematic campaign to reduce overlapping bureaus and to cut out political evils that are causing taxes to become excessive."

William Lethbridge of Winter Gardens is serving as the council representative for this area and is anxious for a large turn-out from our community. Reservations for the dinner should be left at The Farmer offiice not later than 9:00 Monday morning or care of William Lethbridge, P. .O Box 522. The price of the dinner is only 75c and those attending will be pleased with the great work this organization is doing.

NEWSPAPERS AND THE CROWN

Hardworking newspaper editors and business managers who comprise the membership of that useful organization, the California Newspaper Publishers Association, will meet at Coronado, the Crown of San Diego, January 19 to 21, for their annual convention. No chicken is the C. N. P. A., for this will be its 52nd such gathering. As a matter of fact it is almost as old as Coronado itself, for this year the Crown will celebrate its 54th birthday.

In its early days, when newspapers in California were comparaitvely few in number, the C. N. P. A. was somewhat of a weakling. But a few earnest souls nursed it along until today it is a strong institution of much value to its members and of no small use to advertisers and the general public. It rejoices in having in Mr. John B. Long a general manager who combines cordiality and agreeableness with the ability to get business. These are attributes not always linked. Mr. Long himself is fortunate in having the assistance of able staffs in Los Angeles and San Francisco. We may be permitted to single out for special mention Miss Edith Allan, for so long the successful manager of the Los Angeles office, who well bears out the assertion that ladies make excellent "men of business."

The theme of the convention will be "Public Relations" and that reminds us that Coronado got its first publicity from a distinguished source. For it was the late General H. G. Otis, fighting editor and owner of the Los Angeles Times, who gave Coronado its first real publicity. That was away back in May, 1886, a month after the incorporation of the far-famed Coronado Beach Company.

The general was obliged to admit that the spot, as he saw it, was "uninviting in a state of nature," but he prophesied that "the peninsula will blossom as the rose and bloom with the presence of a large seaside populace.' He added that "money, work, skill and taste will do wonders; and these, coupled with the energy and persistence of the intrepid projectors will make a notable place here."

A true prophet. That once "uninviting spot" formerly known as the Island or Peninsular of San Diego has indeed become the Crown.

HOT TURK

Anything that helps to make a demand for more turkeys will be welcomed by raisers of that noble bird in this section. So it's to be hoped the turkeyfurter, or hot turk, will catch on with John Public.

The turkeyfurter is being promoted back east by the National Sausage Casing Dealers' Association. The way it is being served, with cranberry sauce and roll, makes it a quick lunch. But the price is 15 cents so it is not likely to displace the popular hot dog at a nickle.

London Punch describes pamphlets which English airmen shower on German towns as bomphlets.

Chamberlain is reported to relax after a hard day by crooning Negro spirituals in a Birmingham baritone. Rather brassy.

Football referees must hereafter pass a physical exam. But spectators, with the money, will still be able to get in without a doctor's certificate.

A PETITION TO TIME

Touch us gently, Time!
Let us glide adown thy stream
Gently,—as we sometimes glide
Through a quiet dream.

Touch us gently, Time!
We've not proud nor soaring wings;
Our ambition, our content,
Lies in simple things.
Humble voyagers are we,
O'er Life's dim unsounded sea,
Seeking only some calm clime;
Touch us gently, gentle Time!

AND FAITH RENEW

The New Year always brings a renewal of faith—faith in our country, in our town and in ourselves.

Out "great men" are telling us that we may look forward to larger things in 1940—more money for farm produce, more business for merchants and more taxes for all. They assure us that prosperity is "just around the corner." Have we not heard that expression before? Let's hope prosperity will stay at the corner and not beat it up the street before we get there.

At any rate, under the stimulus of Babson reports and whatnot, we faith renewed on New Year's Day. And what is faith? That extensive traveler and voluminous writer Paul—known in his unbelieving days as Saul of Tarsus—described it thus: "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.'

Perhaps some things which even the mighty men of Washington and New York don't see now will be in evidence in 1940. The heartiest hope we have is that peace may come to the warring lands of Europe and Asia. But alas! our faith is not strong enough for that.

HOME MADE DRESSES

In these days of self-denial home-made dresses adorn beautiful girls who once patronized costumers of Paris and London. Time, the weekly newsmagazine, reports that chosen outstanding Washington debutante of the current season at a benefit party was demure, brown-eyed, 18-year-old Patricia Prochnik, daughter of Edgar L. G. Prochnik, Austrian Minister to the United States left jobless by Hiler's annexation of Austria to Germany. To an interviewer's inevitable question: Do you want to be a glamor girl? Patricia, "dressed in an outfit made by her mother," replied: I'd rather be animated and friendly and just natural."

Home-made outfits for charming debutantes possess something that not even the finest costumes made by the most "exclusive" professionals possess. Mother love has been sewn into them with every stitch. Truly a girl is beautifully adorned who wears clothes that bear the aroma of tender affection.

CHERISH LOFTY THOUGHTS

Did you read in the San Diego Union Sunday how world-famous Bertrand Russell, temporary teacher of philosophy at University of California at Los Angeles, made his "legal entry" into the United States via the Tiajuna gateway? To that great British educator one owes the fact that, after having decided to make no more New Year resolutions, we decided on just one. It is: Cherish lofty thoughts. That advice is given in Russell's arresting essay "A Free Man's Worship," published in "Travellers Library by W. Somerset Maughan (Doubleday, Doran and Company, Garden City, N. Y.) The essay contains both dark and sunny words. Here are extracts:

"Brief and powerless is Man's life; on him and all his race the slow, sure doom falls pitiless and dark. Blind to good and evil, reckless of destruction, omnipotent matter rolls on its relentless way.

"For Man, condemned today to lose his dearest, tomorrow himself to pass through the gate of darkness, it remains only to cherish ere yet the blow falls, the lofty thoughts that ennoble his little day; disdaining the coward terrors of the slave of Fate, to worship at the shrine that his own hands have built; undismayed by the empire of chance, to preserve a mind free from the wanton tyranny that rules his outward life; proudly defiant of the irresistible forces that tolerate, for a moment, his knowledge and his condemnation, to sustain alone, a weary but unyielding Atlas, the world that his own ideals have fashioned despite the trampling march of unconscious power."

"I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now?" sang the KFSD artist. At its conclusion the announcer said the next number would be "The Man With the Mandoline."

Look for strength in people, not weakness; for good, not evil; most of us find what we search for.—J. Wilbur Chapman.

Mortals must change their ideals in order to improve their models. —Mary Baker Eddy.

The highest and noblest ideal that any man can have is Jesus of Nazareth.—Almeron.

Lumberjack's Nightmare

THE POINSETTIA

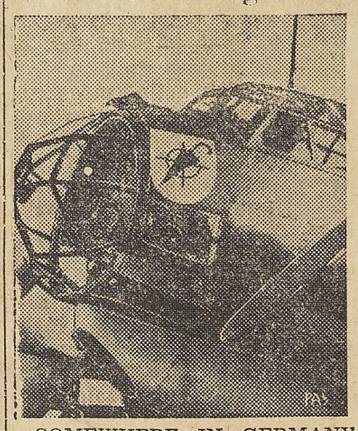

Dedicated to San Diego writers is the second volume of The Poinsettia, Southern California Prose and Verse, compiled and edited by Grace Sherburne Conroe and issued from the press of Roy A. Akers, one of the best known printers of San Diego. To state that he did a first-class job is merely to gild the lily, as the saying is.

The whole volume of more than 200 pages is a real credit to all connected with the publication. And, as Fanny Hodges Newman, distinguished writer, points out in the foreword, it is "a home-built ship." She predicts that this and later "Poinsettias" will show to San Diegans how well worth knowing and cultivating are the launchers of this "ship of dreams." She herself pays poetical tribute to "outstanding persons who live to promote the joy and profit of being here."

Grace Sherburne Conroe, the editor, has lived in San Diege for thirty years and enjoys a high reputation as writer of short stories and verse and teacher of English. Through the medium of "The Poinsettia" she introduces newcomers to a long list of San Diego prose and verse writers of high merit.

This is a volume that goes to a favored place on the bookshelf—a shelf within easy reach. And there its poinsettia cover page, designed by Ethelle Corson Hermes, stands next to a cover equally western which depicts saddle and rope of "They of the High Trails." This "Poinsettia" prose and verse takes one along high roads and low roads but wherever it goes it is interesting.

The Country Garden

GARDEN INVENTORY

The very suggestion that a gardener take inventory, much as merchants do, may seem a bit prosaic for a thing supposed to be made of the stuff of dreams, but practical "dirt" gardeners know well enough there's work aplenty in creating a garden, even of the smallest size.

So this January lets take stock of our garden assets and be able to determine what we need, after finding out what we already have. Lets go back over last year, and the year before that, and try to recall the images we formed for our future garden, remember the plans we made. These ,while not being listed on our "physical" inventory will none the less be some of our "assets," as they will give us impetus to begin in this new year to accomplish as nearly as we may some of our expectations.

This is the time to invoice our hopes, our desires, our ambitions along with our more tangible garden resources.

A pile of boulders, treated with imagination and planted with a few well chosen plants will form the setting for a charming bit of rock work.

A quarry or outcropping of flat-surfaced rock laid up in soil or sandy loam will make an attractive dry rubble wall in whose crannies many tiny plants will find a happy home,—so well do plants and stones abide together, These same flat surface stones laid for paving will lend a picturesque aspect to the garden hard to secure in any other manner.

It is quite possible to do a nice piece of paving with stones having but one flat surface. True, it requires more patience, and some skill and time, but if these are exercised a splendid job will result.

LANDSCAPE WINDOWS

In all too many places there is not enough relation between house and garden, particularly in rural areas, where every house should have at least one landscape window. An outlook where one may enjoy the garden from within the house. A window placed low enough for observation when comfortably seated should be one of our "assets." So, if we do not already have such an observation seat lets plan for a view-of-the garden window. And having a window, lets plan a landscape which will be enjoyable, one that will hold our most cherished desires possible in a garden.

A window, for the joy it brings, costs less than almost any other feature of the house. Used ones may be found for surprisingly little money, and new ones are not beyond attainment if we plan judiciously.

One writer has talked of the garden's seven blessings. To be sure most of us may count that many without difficulty. Chief among them may not be an abundance of prize winning blossoms but an outlet for our imagination's and our soul's refreshment. So in the words of a song-maker, when taking our garden inventory this promising 1940 let's "Thank God for a Garden."

YOUTH

By Wilkins W. Wheatly

Youth's not a certain time of life; it' more a state of mind. Youth is a temper of the will that actuates mankind. It's not a matter of ripe cheeks, red lips or supple knees, but a freshness of the springs of life—a grand disdain of ease. Youth always shows predominance of courage over fear, and youth seeks for adventure in all things both far and near. You'll often find a man whose age is fifty years or more as youthful as the fellow who has barely seen a score. Nobody really ages by piling up the years. Youth leaves us when we loose ideals and give way to our fears. Years wrinkle up the skin, it's true; that's how Time writes his scroll, but losing our enthusiasm wrinkles up the soul. We're always just as young as faith, and just as old as doubt. We're as young as our self confidence which years alone can't rout. We are young when hope is with us. We are old when we despair. Youth still is ours to treasure if some romance we ensnare. No matter what our age is, there should be in every heart a keen desire to see what's next, and take the thing apart. So long as we respond to love; to beauty, faith and truth, we have some reason to believe we have a hold on youth.

Friendship is a plant of slow growth, and must undergo and withstand the shocks of adversity before it is entitled to the appelation.—Washington.

Without confidence there is no friendship.—Epicurus.

Mackeys, Conducting Hospital In China, Report Kind and Courteous Treatment

From far-away Paotingfu, China, where the Mackeys, former residents, are conducting a hospital, comes an interesting letter to a Lakeside Farmer subscriber. It is from Mrs. Maud Mackey and says in part:

"You ask if we have suffered much in this war (the undeclared war between Japan and China.) No we have not. At first in 1937 we were just between the city and the railroad track where the armored trains came slowly in and because of our position there was a good deal of destruction of buildings from the shelling but no bombs have fallen upon us from the air. We have been treated kindly and courteously when we have had dealings with those in authority.

"We have been very thankful to be able to carry on our work in peace and quiet without interference. We are on a peaceful mission, of course, and our staying here now depends on our being neutral, which we try to be.

"Our hospital is full of all kinds of people and our clinics are large. We have a very interesting children's ward, full of happy children; that is they are happy when they get over the hardest part of their troubles and when not in pain.

"Miss Judson was very sick in the summer but she is well now and busy. Sincerely yours, Maud Mackey."

MANY ENTERTAIN FOR MR. AND MRS. KOPPEL

Among those from Lakeside celebrating the Yuletide holidays in Los Angeles vicinity were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Koppel and son Billy, who returned New Year's day after spending a week with their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Allen and family of South Gate and their other daughter Miss Lillian Koppel.

At the Allen residence the Koppels were joined by Mrs. Koppel's sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Tiernan of San Luis Obispo. Mr. Tiernan and Mr. Koppel enjoyed a trip to Barstow the early part of last week, returning by way of Big Bear and Arrowhead Lake and over the Rim of the World.

Another family gathering was enjoyed by the Koppels who visited Mr. Koppel's two sisters and two brothers in Los Angeles.

Climaxing their visit a surprise New Year's eve party was given in their honor by Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Allen with twenty-five guests atending.

Mainly About People

By Lorena Sands

Lakeside, Calif.
Jan. 5, 1940

Dear Eleanor:

Time to change the calendar and check off another year. They will roll around and I bet another year will have come and gone before we have fulfilled all of our plans and good resolutions.

It seems there were quite a few other Lakesiders who were bright lighting in Los Angeles over the New Year holiday. Bill and Louise Sinclair and friends from San Diego spent their time between the Biltmore and Brown Derby. After a very few winks at the home of Miss Genevieve Ferguson, who is Louise's sister, they dashed over to Pasadena to the Rose Parade.

The streamliner left San Diego Sunday with the Fred A. Gavins aboard and headed for Los Angeles. They helped the old year go out and the new one come in while they went hither and thither around town They, too saw the Tournament of Roses, and spent some time visiting in Alhambra. My, how familiar it is to write that name.

And helping to make up the millions in Pasadena on New Years were Celia and Lucille Denlinger, Donald Foster and a friend from Petero. They enjoyed the parade equally as much as anyone, I'm sure.

Westwood was not without its visitors from Lakeside as Mrs. Willis Meyer and brother Mr. Sherwood Jenks enjoyed the holidays there with a cousin. They returned Tuesday night

Needless to say that we tried to see everyone possible in the four days we were there. And also to take in the races at Santa Anita—or should I say taken in by the races! Sandy had a wonderful time with his great grandpa, J. W. Zimmerman, while we visited with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Zimmerman.

Mrs. B. J. Conrad's mother and father, the A E .Moores of Stanford, Montana, arrived last week to spend the winter months with the Conrads and their daughter Alice Moore. They with Alice were among the twenty-one dinner guests at the Conrad home on Christmas night.

Florence Griffiths has just returned to Los Angeles and Occidental College. Her sister Wilma Griffiths of San Diego visited G. W. Conrad, grandparents of the girls and the B. J. Conrads during the holidays

Mr. and Mrs. B. Colia, San Diego helped celebrate New Years at the B. Maniscalco home in Lakeside Farms.

Santa Anita Races were as big an attraction to Lakeside people as the Tournament of Roses and the football game. Mr. L. H. Smith, who knows each horse by his first name, and Mrs. Smith, left here Saturday morning to cheer for the winners at the track with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Parker, former Lakeside residents. The foursome witnessed the parade in Pasadena and returned Monday night.

Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hopkins, Lakeside and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Martin Santee, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. White of San Diego

On Tuesday Mrs. E L. Muse and her sister Mrs. R. D. Sword, El Cajon were guests of another sister Mrs. Edith Davis of San Diego. And I understand that Dennis Sword has just enlisted in the Army. He leaves this week for the training school in SanDiego.

Guess this is all for the time being so Happy New Year to you.

Lovingly
Lorena

Food Stamp Plan to be Started Next Week by State Relief Administration

That the food stamp sale plan has been inaugurated in San Francisco county and later will be extended to other counties, including San Diego is announced in a statement received by this newspaper from Walter Chambers, SRA administrator for California. He declares that retail merchants in California will receive approximately $24-000,000 in new business during the next year and a half under the plan being put into effect by the State Relief Administration.

Chambers said the figure is based on the present relief load being carried by the SRA and past participation by clients in the direct distribution of surplus commodities without the use of stamps.

Arrangements for the plan are contained in an agreement signed between the Federal Surplus Commodities Corp. and the SRA with the approval of Gov. Culbert L. Olson.

Persons entitled to use the stamps will be those receiving SRA assistance, working on Works Project Administration jobs, receiving aid from counties, or old age assistance, or dependent children's and blind aid.

These will be eligible to receive free blue surplus food stamps, providing they buy orange colored food stamps with a part of their WPA or relief checks. The orange colored stamps are to be bought at the rate of approximately $4 per month per person for each member of the family. These will be good for the purchase of any food usually sold in a retail store.

For each $1 worth of orange stamps bought the family will receive 50 cents worth of free blue stamps. Thus a family which buys $16 worth of orange stamps will get $8 worth of blue surplus food stamps without extra cost.

The blue stamps can be used only for obtaining surplus food products. Each one will be good for 25 cents worth. The orange stamps, also worth 25 cents, will be good for any food product as well as for such grocery items as starch, Soap, matches and other things. They will not be good for beer, wine, liquor or tobacco.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

These words from Joel, "Ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the Lord your God, and none else," are the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "God" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

Among the Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon are these verses about Jesus from Mark: "And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all? And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, presents the statements: "The First Commandment is my favorite text. It demonstrates Christian Science. . . . The divine Principle of the First Commandment bases the Science of being, by which man demonstrates health, holiness, and life eternal."

Crochet Champ

NEW YORK, N. Y.—John Miller, 58-year-old ranch hand of Sacramento, Calif., who won the special "For Men Only" prize in the Third National Crochet Contest, shown with his prize-winning entry, a bedspread. Miller told reporters: "I started crocheting when I was five years old. From the age of 15 to 25 I couldn't take the kidding and quit. After that I decided to let them laugh."

HETTICH CLEARS ROAD AFTER CAR FATALITY

John Hettich, brother of Dave Hettich the Julian News and Alpine News advertising manager had a meloncholy duty recently. He had to stand watch over a dead man and clear away auto wreckage.

Clifford E. Hartwell of North Island, San Diego, was killed when his car failed to negotiate a curve and overturned on the Campo-Buckman Springs highway near Laguna Junction.

His son, Gerald Hartell, 17, St. Augustine school student, who suffered minor back injuries in the crash, walked to the near-by ranch house of Orlie Sawday for aid.

Sawday stood watch over the wreckage and hailed a passing motorist, John Hettich, The Union's surburban corespondent, and his wife. Mrs. Hettich drove the injured youth to the Sawday ranch while Hettich cleared the highway of strewn wreckage and awaited A. E. Gallagher, deputy coroner and state highway patrolmen. Hartell was dead when Hettich arrived. The body was taken to Erickson's Mortuary, La Mesa The car, a total wreck was removed to the Alpine Garage by Cliff Anderson.

NAVAL HISTORY AS TOLD BY "OLD SALTS"

San Diego Tribune-Sun gives publicity to this one:

The two retired navy men had attended the divine services at the chapel of the Sailors home in Philadelphia. The navy chaplain had chosen for his text chapter 15 of Judges, which, if you know your scripture, tells the story of Sampson, who slew the Philistines with the jawbone of an ass.

"What do ye think of the story about Sampson?" asked one of the old-timers as they left the chapel.

"The chaplain is all wet," said his mate. "It was Dewey who slew the Philippines, and not Sampson. Sampson was at Santiago de Cuba during the Spanish war. He slew the Spaniards."
